INTERIM LEADERSHIP

Experienced leadership when the business cannot wait

A critical leadership gap, performance challenge or transformation cannot always wait for a permanent solution.

Frank Godbersen & Partners provides experienced Interim Leaders and senior specialists across Procurement, Supply Chain and Operations who can step in quickly, take responsibility and create momentum from day one.

Particularly relevant for manufacturing and industrial companies.

When Interim makes sense

- Leadership gap
A key leader leaves, is unavailable or a permanent replacement is not yet in place.
- Stabilisation
The organisation needs experienced leadership to restore direction, performance or control.
- Transformation
A significant change requires someone who has successfully handled a comparable situation before.
- Specialist need
A critical challenge requires senior experience that is not available internally.

Proven before placed

Interim is not a learning role.

We provide leaders with relevant experience from comparable roles, business environments and challenges — people who can focus on the company and the situation rather than learning the role itself.

The learning curve should be the company, not the role.

How it works

01 Define

We clarify the situation, mandate, priorities, expected outcomes and timing.
